EUROPEAN AND FRENCH ROULETTE

European and French Roulette wheels both feature the numbers 1 to 36 and a single zero. However, there are two key differences with French Roulette:

- French Roulette includes the La Partage rule: if you make an even money bet and the ball lands on zero, you lose only half your bet
- French Roulette uses a slightly different table layout with some bet types shown in French: Pair or Impair = Even or Odd numbers; Manque or Passe = Low (1-18) or High (19-36) numbers.

AMERICAN (DOUBLE ZERO) ROULETTE

The classic American double-zero format meets the needs of the US market and extends game choice for players in other regions. The American-style wheel features one extra pocket (00) compared with European and French Roulette and 00 on the table layout. The number order is also different around the wheel, which is significant for players placing a neighbour bet.

- Low betting limits to attract more players
- Additional 'Five Bet', in which one chip/bet covers five numbers: 0, 00, 1, 2 and 3
- Increased house edge of 5.3% overall.

LIGHTNING ROULETTE

Blending our world-class Live Roulette with advanced RNG gameplay, Lightning Roulette is a multi award-winning Roulette game offering added entertainment value and multiplied prize values.

- Electrifying user interface and eye-catching black and gold Art Deco environment
- RNG Lucky Numbers and Lucky Payouts add slots-style excitement to every game round
- Win greatly multiplied payouts (50x, 100x, 200x, 300x, 400x or 500x) on the simple Straight Up bet.

Available in Italian, Spanish and Turkish.

HOW TO PLAY

The objective of Roulette is to predict the number on which the ball will land by placing one or more bets that cover that particular number. The wheel in European and French Roulette includes the numbers 1-16 plus a single 0 (zero).

You can place many different kinds of bets on the Roulette table. Bets can cover a single number or a certain range of numbers, each type of bet has its own payout rate.

Bets made on the numbered spaces on the betting area, or on the lines between them, are called inside bets, while bets made on the special boxes below and to the side of the main grid of numbers are called outside bets. A Straight Up bet or a Split bet are examples of inside bets, bets on Red/Black or Even/Odd are examples of outside bets.

After the betting time has expired, the ball is spun within the Roulette wheel. The ball will eventually come to rest in one of the numbered pockets. You win if you have placed a bet that covers that particular number.

Neighbour bets are placed on a special oval or racetrack-shaped betting area that allows you to more easily place neighbour bets and other special bets. Each bet covers a different set of numbers and offers different payout odds. Bet spots will be highlighted on the betting grid when placing neighbour bets.
